Good morning. It's 9:26 exactly and 39 years ago today I had a little baby boy with the darkest most here. I ever saw a baby ever have in this little life and it came out kicking the scrying crying and like a crazy little guy. I can't believe that we have a 39 month time. We looking at all. Although my hair is growing a little bit right now, but that's another story. Anyway, today is your birth story and it was a wonderful birthday the best ever out of the three was the life out of the three. Your brothers is a little crazy and your sister was Cruiser yet. So it was great, beautiful day just like it is today in North Carolina Sun was shining we were waiting for a boy. We went in you know, and just had our little operation and next we knew we had this adorable little baby boy. And now I can't remember you may have to go to the baby book. Where you at 8 for a month. Having trouble remembering that one anyway, or something like that the big boy big big boy. And anyway, we just had more fun and your homes to your little your big brother, and he was just an oil of of you with a little blond curls. We hadn't come up here yet almost looks like a little girl we had this is more of a marvelous time having this little boy with Bruce three, very easy Brothers as much a Matic and your sisters. It's crazy. So, thanks Jeff for being my easy birth story. We love you, and we hope you have a wonderful day. We'd love to say something in the afternoon with you or those two cute adorable children. There's not a love you and I hope you'll get you press it cuz we got it for you and Amy will be delivering it. So enjoy your day and enjoy those two adorable children, and that wonderful wife of yours. So we'll talk to you later. Love you suck.

MURDER MOST FOWL Fury as cruel driver 'intentionally' mows down flock of ducklings and mother duck

51 Comments

THOUSANDS of people were left outraged after a driver mowed down a flock of ducklings and their mum.

A man who saw the cruel kill in Holbeach, Lincolnshire, said a blue Ford C-Max failed to stop in Penny Hill Road last Friday, wiping out the mother duck and all but one of her feathered babies.

The ducklings were run over by a blue Ford C-Max, according to a witness

2. In-person interview with David Lynch, March 18, 2010. All future references to statements by Lynch should be understood to have come from this interview unless otherwise indicated.

3. Telephone interview with Catherine Coulson, September 2, 1994. Coulson told me that she recorded all the Log Lady prologues in one day and that Lynch was writing as she delivered them. She did not know about Lynch's take on materiality, but anyone who does can see that they are almost transparently about quantum and Vedic ideas about the material plane. For example, the entire prologue to episode 7 alludes to a plane of matter on which no matter how different objects may look, they are all swarms of particles in the void, which only our way of thinking shapes into discreet things. "As above, so below, the human being finds himself or herself in the middle. There is as much space outside the human proportionately as inside. Stars, moons, and planets remind us of protons, neutrons, and electrons. Is there a bigger being walking with all the stars within? Does our thinking affect what goes on outside us and inside us? I think it does. Where does creamed corn figure into the workings of the universe? What really is creamed corn? Is it a symbol for something else?"

That video has sparked national outrage. But there is another, rarely talked-about aspect to the encounter that should attract as much scrutiny: The citizen's arrest laws that make it possible for ordinary people across the US to stop any man they deem suspicious.

No discussion of Arbery's death would be complete without reexamining the value of these citizen's arrest laws. I've been stopped by armed white men in a different scenario. These laws make me feel like another bull's eye has been slapped on my back.

EXECUTIVE ORDER

PREVENTING ONLINE CENSORSHIP

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and the laws of the United States of America, including the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended (40 U.S.C. 101 and 121(a)), it is hereby ordered as follows:

Section 1. Policy.

Free speech is the bedrock of American democracy. Our Founding Fathers protected this sacred right with the First Amendment to the Constitution, understanding that the freedom to express and debate ideas is the foundation for all of our rights as a free people.

The emergence and growth of online platforms in recent years raises important questions about applying the ideals of the First Amendment to modern communications technology. Today, many Americans follow the news, stay in touch with friends and family, and share their views on current events through social media and other online platforms. As a result, these platforms function in many ways as a 21st-century equivalent of the public square.

As President, I have made clear my commitment to free and open debate on the Internet. Such debate is just as important online as it is in our universities, our businesses, our newspapers, and our homes. It is essential to sustaining our democracy.

In a country that has long cherished the freedom of expression, we cannot allow a limited number of online platforms to hand-pick the speech that Americans may access and post online. This practice is fundamentally un-American and anti-democratic. When large, powerful social media companies censor [illegible] with which they disagree, they use

(Bloomberg Businessweek) -- It can be tough to stay motivated when all the days blend into one. You might feel lucky to have a job, yet still struggle to concentrate on tasks or maintain enthusiasm for your work. Even responsibilities you once enjoyed can lose their sizzle.

If your child has an accident in the pool, such as a bowel movement, drain the water. This will need to be done right away. Feces have the ability to cause many diseases. After you have drained the water, pour 3 cups of bleach in the pool. Use a scrub brush to scrub all surfaces of the plastic pool before rinsing and refilling it. Once you do refill it, resume using chemicals.

On April 23, 1616, English poet and playwright William Shakespeare died in his hometown of Stratford-upon-Avon at the age of fifty-two. His death occurred on or near his birthday (the exact date of his birth remains unknown), which may have been the source of a later legend that he fell ill and died after a night of heavy drinking with two other writers, Ben Jonson and Michael Drayton.
